Boom Beveridge For President In 1924

Result of Primary Biggest Upset in Indiana Political History

NEW MEN BLAME WATSON

Analysis of Vote Shows Bull Moose Had Strength Among Every Class

Indianapolis, Ind.—"Beveridge for president in 1924," was the battle cry of the Hoosier Bull Moose Thursday, flush from victory of their leader over Senator Harry S. New.

Albert J. Beveridge's defeat of the close friend and supporter of President Harding for the Republican nomination for United States senator was the most astounding upset in Indiana's political history. A realignment of political forces in the state is sure to follow.

Messages of congratulation received by Beveridge from former Bull Moose leaders convinced his close followers that if he is successful in defeating Samuel Ralston, Democrat, at the November election, his candidacy for president would receive wide spread support from progressives of both parties.

HAS BIG MAJORITY
Practically complete figures on the election, unofficially compiled Thursday, showed Beveridge winner by a majority of approximately 20,000. The vote with one hundred and forty-two precincts out of 3,352 yet to be heard from, was:

Beveridge 187,753.
New 158,753.
The old guard Republicans, supporting New, in looking for the cause of the startling defeat of the senator for renomination, stopped their search on turning to James Watson, the other Indiana senator.

Watson's ambition to control the Republican organization in Indiana, and not divide the control with New, as he has been doing, caused him to knive his colleague, New's supporters bitterly claimed.

The New leaders claimed they saw Watson's hand in the fact that Beveridge carried all but two counties in the Sixth congressional, in which Watson lives. Every county in the Ninth district, home of John Owen, Watson's political manager, went for Beveridge.

Watson's followers indignantly deny the charge of treachery, saying they did all possible to assist New.

An analysis of the vote, showed Beveridge had unexpected strength among every class. The farmer vote, which he had been conceded, gave him an endorsement far greater than his closet followers had dared predict. "Beveridge's stand on limitation of campaign expenses, and attacks on the New stand in the Newberry case was credited with winning votes in rural districts. The labor vote, such as Lake county, which had been conceded to New by Beveridge followers, got on the band wagon with a heavy vote.

HEAVY WOMEN VOTE
Beveridge was given a heavy vote by the women on his prohibition stand, being a strong supporter of strict enforcement of the anti-liquor laws.

Republicans in the state Thursday were trying to rally the forces of New behind Beveridge in the election. The election in November will depend on the success which they meet in solidifying the Republican voters behind the candidate.

Ralston is a former governor of the state and has good, personal following and Democrats look for him to make a strong race.

EAGLES IN FAVOR OF BEER AND WINE

The Fraternal Order of Eagles at a meeting Wednesday night, voted on record as being in favor of the re-summation of the sale and manufacture of beer and light wines. About 200 members were present at the meeting. Resolutions favoring amendment both the Volstead and the Sevenson acts were passed and ordered to be sent to representatives in congress and state legislature.

COCKFIGHT FANS IN COURT THIS WEEK

Names of the four men whose arrest on charge of being implicated in a cock fight at Little Chute a month ago, still have not been divulged. It is said the four defendants have been asked to appear in court to answer to the charges without the formality of having the sheriff serve the warrants on them in person. It is said the men have agreed to do this and will be in court in the next day or two.

SENATE OLD GUARDS MOURN PASSING OF NEW FROM OFFICE

Washington—The senate old guards mourned Thursday over the passing of one of its stalwarts—Harry S. New of Indiana. Regret—personal and political—over New's crushing defeat in the senatorial primary in Indiana by former Senator Albert J. Beveridge, was mingled with apprehension.

For other old guard senators saw in New's defeat a handwriting upon the wall, forecasting trouble for them.

This was because senators believed that, rightly or wrongly, New's defeat would be heralded over the country as resulting from his vote to seat Senator Truman Newberry of Michigan. Senator Jim Watson, New's colleague, said the women vote beat New. The women and the farmers, "post mortems" showed, were much influenced by the discussion of the Newberry case.

Another contributing factor was believed to be New's vote to recommend to committee the soldier bonus bill some months ago. New, a bonus advocate, voted then as President Harding wished. But veterans started organizing against him and have kept it up ever since.

New's colleagues will be sorry to lose him, for he was popular personally. Politically he has always been regarded as one of the sages, sitting in inner councils of the party.

There were hints Thursday, when New retired from the senate, next March he will be given a cabinet place, if he wants it.

WOMAN IN AUTO SHOT BY BANDIT

Milwaukee Woman Seriously Injured by Bullet Fired by Highwayman

Milwaukee—Mrs. Emma Palmer is in a critical condition at a local hospital here Thursday from a bullet wound in her head which was fired by a lone highwayman Wednesday night while Mrs. Palmer and her husband were motoring in the country. The couple had gone to a theatre and after the performance motored into the country. They stopped on a bridge several miles north of Milwaukee to admire the moonlight scene along the river. A man with a flashlight approached from the rear, opened a door of the car and said something which Palmer did not understand.

Palmer started her car as quickly as possible and had only driven a short distance when a bullet crashed through the rear of the machine and struck Mrs. Palmer in the head. She was rushed to a hospital. It was reported Thursday morning her condition was serious. Motorcycle police and members of the sheriff's force are scouring the countryside in search of the bandit.

GOLD RESERVE IN U. S. BANKS NOT FOR LOAN

Federal Reserve Board Will Not Permit Money to be Sent to Europe

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1922, by Post Pub. Co.
Washington—European financiers are raising false hopes and are doomed to disappointment if they expect the Federal Reserve Board to permit the two and a half billion dollar gold reserve in American banks to be employed to purchase any international loans.

Positive information to that effect was given this correspondent today together with the prediction that if Benjamin Strong, Jr., governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, or any other representatives of the American Federal Reserve system attend the forthcoming conference at London the most they will be able to do will be to explain the limitations of the Federal Reserve act and counsel Europe as to what steps she herself must take before the confidence and funds of the American investor can flow in her direction.

NO LOAN POWERS
For many days the impression has gotten abroad that the federal reserve board by sending a representative to the conference of banks of issue to be held at London to the Genoa conference would be able to participate in a huge consortium for the flotation of a loan or for the regulation of international exchange. Officials here have been examining the law to see if by some stretch of the imagination Europeans had found some powers in the federal reserve act which permitted such participation. There are no such powers. The most that the member banks in the federal reserve system can do is to purchase short time acceptances of not more than ninety days maturity. They can use their gold coin for such a purpose and the American banks are doing more and more of that every day. This process has been encouraged by the recent simplification by the federal reserve board of the rules of governing such transactions. But the bills of exchange must be endorsed by at least two responsible parties and the evidence must be presented to show the existence of contracts covering the exportation of importation of the goods which are the basis of the credit.

Any idea, therefore, that the gold supply of the Federal Reserve system can be used to purchase securities floated by European governments is based on a misconception of the limits of the Federal Reserve law. The gold reserves are absolutely mortgaged by the legal requirements concerning domestic deposits. The gold in the Federal Reserve system belongs to the people who deposit it there. If, on the other hand, the depositors wish to ship gold to Europe by purchasing the securities of foreign governments, the Federal Reserve Board has no objection.

MUST HELP THEMSELVES
The prevailing opinion among officials of the Federal Reserve Board here is that the trouble in Europe is fundamental, that until the European governments balance their budgets, reduce their armies and solve their political quarrels which are doing so much to disturb the tranquility of Europe, very little if anything can be done by outside agencies. And the moment political stability is achieved, these same officials say there will be no difficulty in floating loans in the United States or anywhere else.

The couple had gone to a theatre and after the performance motored into the country. They stopped on a bridge several miles north of Milwaukee to admire the moonlight scene along the river. A man with a flashlight approached from the rear, opened a door of the car and said something which Palmer did not understand.

HOLD WOMAN ON MURDER CHARGE

Cleveland, O.—Circumstantial evidence continued to pile up Thursday against Cleveland's "lady bluebeard" suspect.

Although examination of the ex-humid body of her third husband to die under mysterious circumstances in the last few years had not been completed, Prosecutor Stanton announced slight traces of arsenic or any other poison would lead to serious charges against her.

The woman's two children, who died of poison said to have been taken accidentally, were heavily insured. Stanton claimed to have learned Thursday. He is working on the theory that she poisoned the last three of her five husbands so she could collect the insurance.

THREE M'CORMICKS TO MARRY EUROPEANS

MATHILDE M'CORMICK

HAROLD F. M'CORMICK

EDITH R. M'CORMICK

By United Press Leased Wire

Chicago—An added starter appeared Thursday in the matrimonial race of the Harold F. McCormick, John D. Rockefeller families. The name of Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, divorced wife of Harold McCormick, coupled with that of Edward Krenn, Swiss, her personal friend and adviser.

In this reported romance of the daughter of the world's richest man and her "business manager," cupid has continued to deal strange cards which brought widespread attention to the love game of the house of McCormick.

Two other matches in the family with prospect of marriage soon are Harold F. McCormick and Ganna Walska, Polish opera star.

Mathilde McCormick, 16-year-old daughter of the family and Mrs. Oser, Swiss, is a stable proprietor.

Krenn blushed furiously and giggled hysterically when asked about the rumored engagement to Mrs. McCormick, but he would not deny it. Krenn has been living at the Drake hotel since arriving in America nearly a year ago. He accompanied Mrs. McCormick to Chicago after her self imposed exile of eight years in Switzerland.

Rumors that Mathilde's wedding to Oser had been postponed—perhaps permanently—persuaded Thursday in spite of her emphatic denials and claims that her love for Oser was true.

RIVAL IRISH FORCES MAKE SHORT TRUCE

Stop Fighting to Discuss Basis for Unification of Two Armies

Dublin—A truce between the rival Irish republican army forces has been declared, it was announced this afternoon.

The truce is operative from 4 o'clock this afternoon until 4 o'clock Monday with a view of giving both sides of the army an immediate opportunity to discuss a basis for army unification.

The provisions of the truce are: Clause 1—All operations except training and ordinary army routine will cease.

Clause 2—All penetrative operations will cease.

Clause 3—Both sections will cooperate to maintain order and prevent acts of aggression against persons or property.

The document is signed by Owen O'Duffy and Rian Lynch, the chiefs of staff of the rival forces.

Ten members of the regular Irish republican army forces were wounded during the two days operations in Kilbenny said a statement from the Reggars' Bush headquarters. There were some casualties among the irregular forces and 108 prisoners were taken.

According to the correspondent of the Irish Independent, the Marquis and Marchioness of Ormonde remained in their castle during its occupation by the irregulars and its siege and capture by the provisional government forces.

The Marquis told the correspondent that the experience was alarming and uncomfortable. He added that the republican party treated the Marquis and himself with consideration. They did not enter any room unnecessarily for military operations and obtained their own food.

BUMP NAMED ASSISTANT STATE ATTORNEY GENERAL

The city service commission is expected to pass on Morgan's appointment at once. Bump probably will assume his duties next week.

MISSING RACINE WOMAN FOUND IN MILWAUKEE

Racine, Wis.—Mrs. Emma Stanley and her two children whose disappearance from their home here was linked up with the finding of a woman wandering about near Peoria, Ill., are in Milwaukee, according to a telegram received from the woman's husband, Ira Stanley, who is being aided by the police of that city in his search.

However, close up gossip from the McCormick household was that the Rockefeller branch of the family which had opposed the marriage from the first, had won a signal victory to ward breaking up the romance. Mathilde's father, who first publicly approved the match, was understood to be now arrayed with the opposition to Oser.

Harold McCormick, here with his daughters, refused to comment on reports of his coming marriage to Ganna Walska. He said he had absolute no interest in the divorce which the opera star is obtaining from Alexander Smith Cochran, but agreed that Ganna Walska was a "wonderful woman."

A committee consisting of the commanders of George D. Eggleston post, G. A. R. C. O. Barr camp of Spanish American War Veterans, and Oney Johnson post of the American Legion, was appointed to secure the speaker of the day. The Rev. J. A. Holmes was selected as chaplain.

JITNEYS DEALT SEVERE BLOW BY GREEN BAY JUDGE

Green Bay—Judge Henry Graess in the circuit court late Thursday afternoon handed down a decision in the "jitney case." The decision is a complete victory for the city in its attempt to regulate the jitneys by ordinance.

The temporary injunction obtained by the jitney bus owners, restraining the council from enforcing the ordinance, is dissolved.

The court holds that the city's license fee of $100 annually is legal and reasonable. "The city council," the opinion states, "has a right to regulate traffic for the safety and convenience of the public." The council has the power to exclude jitneys from congested corners and congested streets, and it may regulate jitneys to avoid congestion of traffic and to promote public safety.

The decision means that the jitneys operating in Green Bay will be excluded from streets on which street cars are run. They will also be excluded from congested streets, and intersections in the business district where they have been accustomed to pick up traffic in competition with street cars.

JURY STILL OUT IN FARWELL CASE

Madison—The jury trying Hartwell Farwell, wealthy farmer for the murder of Phil Hosten his neighbor at Vienna, Wis., Thursday requested more time in which to arrive at a verdict, after being out 44 hours.

Jurors have given no indication of their probable conclusion which may be acquittal, first or second degree murder, or second or fourth degree manslaughter. The request for further time for consideration is taken to indicate that the members of the jury are not hopelessly deadlocked, but may yet reach a verdict.

Throughout the deliberations of the twelve men who have his fate in their hands, Farwell has sat in court. He is alone, his sister Alice and his mother having returned to their farm to await the decision of the court.

French and Belgians Oppose Concessions Made to Soviet Government

HASTY CONFERENCES HELD

Bolshevik Hope to Negotiate Separate Treaty With Great Britain

By United Press Leased Wire

Genoa—The Genoa conference tottered on the verge of complete collapse Thursday.

Lloyd George, through hasty conferences, struggled to avert the crash. The French and Belgians threatened to bring the whole structure of the conference to the ground, while the suave Russians appeared to be quietly waiting to complete the destruction.

The soviet delegation, which had indicated it will reject the allied proposals, is playing its waiting game in the hope that an open breach between France and Great Britain will give Russia an opportunity to throw upon the French all blame for a collapse.

SEPARATE TREATY

The Russians also hope to negotiate separately with the British, as they have with the Germans and believe Lloyd George may come to agree on this because of the attitude of France.

The French delegation here Thursday awaited instructions from Paris, which will be, it was understood, to reiterate France's unalterable opposition to concessions regarding return of private property as contained in the note to Russia.

Lloyd George was in direct communication with Premier Poincare at Paris, making every effort to persuade the French premier not to adopt such an attitude.

AGREE TO PACT

By United Press Leased Wire

Paris—France Thursday agreed to join Lloyd George's proposed pan-European pact of nonaggression.

The cabinet met and decided to adhere to the proposed ten year truce, with the single reservation that all France's rights under the Versailles treaty shall be respected.

The French, however, maintained firmly the attitude of opposition to the allied note to Russia, which they adopted Wednesday.

Premier Poincare threatened to resign if it was authoritatively stated, less his determination to back Belgium in this regard was unanimously supported.

Poincare's attitude is that it was a case of France choosing between Belgium and England and he chose Belgium, saying:

"France cannot forget what Belgium did at the beginning of this war."

The Belgian objection to the note was that its clause relating to restitution of foreign property required Russia to furnish leaseholds to former owners, but not free holds. The clause also permitted payment in other ways where restitution was not made.

The French press Thursday openly charged that Lloyd George had the note framed in this way in order that the secret deal of the Shell interests with Russia might not be facilitated. It is charged that Belgian oil interests in Russia, which will be handed over to the British group for exploitation.

Pung, whose house stood on the triangle bounded by college-ave., State-st. and the track of the Northwestern Railway Co.

The family, which consisted of the parents and five children, had $49.60 when it reached its destination. The present weighmaster immediately went to work and his first job was in the brickyard of Carver & Gayhart. # COUNCIL ORDERS 5,000 COPIES OF REPORT ON SCHOOL

Every Family in Appleton Will Have an Opportunity of Studying Report

Every family in Appleton may receive a printed copy of the exhaustive report of the state survey committee on the school situation in Appleton as presented at a meeting of the joint committee and common council in the city hall Monday evening.

The city council in Wednesday's meeting decided to have printed approximately 5,000 booklets containing this report in order that every family in Appleton may become thoroughly familiar with the school situation as it exists before any building program may be adopted.

No action was taken by the council on the report which calls for a building and improvement program of more than a half million dollars, and proposes the erection of two junior high schools, remodeling of the high school and adoption of the union system.

Alderman James A. Wood objected to the resolution as presented by Chairman A. W. Laabs of the school committee on the grounds that the expense involved in printing so large a number of books was too indefinite. If not prohibitive, at Mayor Henry Reuter's suggestion, Mr. Laabs changed his motion to read "not exceeding 5,000 booklets." The finance committee and the city clerk was authorized to receive printers' bids and make a contract.

DEPERE TRYING TO REGULATE BUSES

Public Massmeeting is Held to Discuss Transportation
Problem

A public meeting to regulate jitney bus traffic in DePere and between that city and Green Bay was held in DePere Tuesday evening. It was attended by the city council and many prominent citizens. C. E. Warwick, superintendent of street railways of the Wisconsin Public Service company represented the street car company and Charles Kieffer, jitney bus owner, defended the bus traffic.

Mayor Kidney took the stand that the automobile bus owners should be made to pay a license as well as the street car company. He said that the street car company operates 14 cars between DePere and Green Bay and pays $1,200 license for each car besides taxes to the extent of $22,000. The jitney bus owner, operating three buses on the same route, pays license on only one car, he said. The street car company paid $1,400 to clean up two streets in DePere, he said, while the jitney buses wear down the pavement.

Mr. Kieffer, the jitney bus owner, said he was making no more than a living out of his business. Another meeting will be held Friday, May 12, to discuss the matter further and possibly take some action.

"Apartment House" Wins Scout Birdhouse Contest

Scouts Moody and Catlin Build
2-story, 16-room Hotel
for Martins

Winners of the prizes in the Boy Scout bird house building contest, in which about 40 scouts participated, have been announced by H. B. Buck, scout executive.

John Catlin and William Moody, members of troop 3, are jointly the winners of the first prize, Alfred Gebheim, troop 4, second prize winner; Joseph Keller, troop 1, third prize winner.

Scouts Catlin and Moody, who built a martin apartment house, receive a scout axe; Scout Gebheim, builder of a two room birch bark and log cabin for wrens, receives a high quality baseball; Scout Keller gets a baseball bat for building a fancy wren bungalow. The prizes were offered by A. Galpin Sons Hardware Co.

The house that won first prize is a stately two story 20 room martin hotel, painted green and white. It is three feet long and two feet high. The roof is of sheet metal, with rubberoid shingles. There are two promenade decks, with eight entrances on each side and two on each end. The house was awarded first prize for its size, amount of work on it and the good workmanship on the fancy pedestals.

Gebheim's house was duplex apartment birch bark house with log cabin effect. It was commended for very neat workmanship. A feature of this house was the log chimney extending from bottom to roof. The two rooms will permit the mother wren to hatch in one nest while the daddy bird builds another nest in the other room.

The third prize bird house, won by Scout Keller, is a very artistic wren bungalow, painted gray, with fancy panelling. A feature of this house is the hinged bottom making cleaning an easy matter.

A number of other unique and interesting houses were displayed in Galpin's show window. Honorable mention goes to Robert Wolff, troop 1, for a neat birch wren bungalow; to Richard Joyce, troop 6, and to W. H. Meyer, also for birch bark wren houses.

UNION PHARMACY Great Refund Offer

To Appleton People Who Are Weak, Sickly, Nervous
Or Run-Down

IMPORTANT NOTICE—By special arrangement, we can now extend to any person in Appleton who wants more strength, energy and endurance, the opportunity of using Nuxated Iron so that if you do not get all and even greater benefits than you expect, it will not cost you one cent because we ourselves will promptly return your money.

You may wonder how we can afford to do this. The answer is that week after week a large number of Appleton people come into our store for Nuxated Iron, throughout the country over four million people use it annually. Blood examinations by physicians all over the country show that an enormous number of people do not have enough iron in their blood. Without iron the blood becomes thin, pale and watery. In many cases this seriously weakens the vital organs that people often believe they have heart or stomach trouble, kidney diseases, nerve force exhaustion or some other serious ailment. They have pains and palpitation of the heart, sudden dizziness, faintness or spots before the eyes, when as a matter of fact the trouble is all due to lack of iron in the blood, and when iron is supplied, all of these symptoms disappear.

Genuine Nuxated Iron contains true organic iron like the iron in your blood. So many people are deficient in iron who would surely be benefited by this remarkable remedy that we recommend that you come right to Union Pharmacy and get a bottle of Nuxated Iron, use it for two weeks and note the improvement in your own case. You are the judge—if you do not get all and even greater benefits than you expect, just bring back the wrapper and we will promptly refund the full amount you paid. adv.

London.—The composer at the beginning of his career knows the sensation of not being able to find a publisher for his musical number, but Dr. Richard Strauss, born under a lucky star, has never known it till coming to the Italy of PROF. CICILE. Recently he has decided to publish a volume of twelve songs—the words of which were the work of Berlin's most famous dramatic critic, Alfred Kerr—under the title of "The Dealer and Art." This title and some references in the text offended the publishers and, one after another, they refused to have anything to do with the matter. But the composer, a highclass art lithographer, came to the rescue, made lithographic plates of the songs, and managed to prepare 120 copies. These are now selling at a fancy price. Dr. Strauss is a keen business man as well as a great musician, and he may be said to "sign his own check" from the publisher who has dealings with him.

CHILD PAINFULLY INJURED; DRAGGED BY FARM TRACTOR

Arnold Spiegelburg is Caught Beneath Moving Spring Tooth Drag in Field

Special to The Post-Crescent
New London—The 14 months old son of Arnold Spiegelburg, Dale rd, was the victim of a painful accident Friday morning. The father was drawing a spring tooth drag with a tractor when the child ran into the path of the drag, unknown to the father and was pulled along the ground against the sharp teeth of the drag for several feet before the mother saw the child's plight and rushed out of the house screaming to attract the father's attention. The machine was stopped in time to save the child from being cut to pieces, but he was severely injured. The little boy was rushed to a physician's office in New London where the injuries were cared for. He was fortunate enough to escape with a broken arm and several deep gashes on various parts of the body.

Miss Harriet Donaldson spent the weekend at her home in Shiocton. Miss Elsie Leonardson went to Stevens Point Saturday morning to spend the weekend with her sister who attends normal school in that city.

Raymond Model of Pelican spent Saturday and Sunday in New London.

TROOP HAS DISPLAY OF SCOUTCRAFT IN WINDOW

Special to The Post-Crescent
New London—The boys of the local scout troop made about $23 at their hot wener sandwich sale at Werner drug store corner last Saturday.

The boys have had an attractive display in the window of Pommering and Cline furniture store during the past week. Specimens of bark and wood taken from trees native to this section of the state were collected by Verne Blonday and are to be sent to a California scout troop in exchange for specimens native to that state.

Another interesting feature of the exhibit was a set of maps, one of the Northport road drawn by Gerhardt Ladwig and one of Allen's woods by George Rosenberger. The boys also had on display a sample of each of the twelve different kinds of knots that they have been taught to tie for various uses.

The Rev. William F. Ziegler is scoutmaster of the local troop and Kermit Hart is assistant scoutmaster. The advisory committee is composed of E. W. Wendlandt, Dr. J. W. Menstrel and E. C. Kost.

The troop was organized two months ago and now numbers 18 scouts and 6 candidates. The first class scouts include: Rudolph Manske, Gregory Charlesworth, Laurel Westphal, Gerhardt Ladwig, Junior Krake, Max Kuehl, and Harvey Arndt; second class scouts, Richard Gullson, John Dooley, Gerald Dent, Verne Blonday, George Rosenberger, Lewis Thomas and Forrest Zernert; tenderfoot scouts, Simon Knappstein, Franklin Miller, Melvin Schmalenberg, and Thomas Palmer; candidates, Walter Stratton, Carl Pasch, Norman Reier, Paul Wolff, Sylvester Stern and Jerome Warschauer.

DON'T FORGET TO PUT STAMPS ON YOUR LETTERS

An important thing to be remembered in the observance of postal improvement week, May 1 to 6, according to Postmaster Gustave Keller, is the need of affixing stamps on all first class mail matter, whether sealed or unsealed.

The impression prevails, Mr. Keller said, that letters enclosed in unsealed envelopes is malpractice at third class postage rates of 1 cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof. All mail matter, wholly or partly in writing, sealed or unsealed, is chargeable at first class rates of 2 cents for each ounce or fraction thereof, except on drop letters in postoffices where there is no delivery, he said.

Mr. John Hammel and son John and daughter Virginia left for Canada Thursday morning, where they will join Mr. Hammel, who is employed in a Canadian papermill.

BRIDGE FUND OF $100,000 STARTED BY CITY COUNCIL

Unexpected $100,000 Set Aside Until 1923—Award Sewer Contract

A bridge fund of $100,000, was created by the common council at its meeting Wednesday evening, acting on the resolution of the finance committee. The amount, which represents an unexpected increase in income tax receipts this year, will be set aside as a sinking fund until April 1, 1923. Alderman L. O. Hansen was the only member to vote against the resolution, as he objected to restricting the fund only for bridges.

Other recommendations of the finance committee, accepted by the council were allowing of accounts to totaling $24,538.06 and the payment of a mortgage on Pierce park. It also recommended that the fire and police commission and the street and bridge committee make recommendations on reduction of salaries in the fire, police and street departments.

A contract was awarded to the Willson company for constructing sewers in the First, Fourth and Sixth wards for the sum of $16,639.57. Other bidders for this contract were Anthony Thomassen, Fond du Lac; Mierswa Construction Company, Oshkosh; Appleton Grading and Excavating company.

A recommendation of the board of public works not to include Lawest, in this year's paving program but to include it in the 1923 program and to have all underground work on this street put in this year was accepted.

Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Druggists Guarantee First Pint Bottle of Allenru to Show the Way to Complete Recovery

Mr. James H. Allen, of Congress Avenue, Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, are dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called ALLENRU, to others, who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know, about his discovery through the newspapers and instructed druggists to guarantee a full pint bottle as above stated—Voigt's Drug Store can supply you. adv.

Put Return Address On All Letters To Improve Service

Postal improvement week offers many ways in which the public can cooperate with the postoffice department to increase the efficiency of the service, and one of them suggested by Postmaster Gustave Keller is the placing of a return address upon envelopes.

The number of letters that fail to reach their destination and are sent to the dead letter office for lack of return address is enormous and the loss of time in handling them means a great expense to the government. The senders in addition suffer much annoyance caused by the delay.

The number of letters to reach the dead letter office, each year, according to Mr. Keller, is 19,000,000. Allowing for each letter a minimum of three minutes that are wasted in the handling, the total loss amounts to 905,000 hours, or about $543,000 in money, figuring the average wage at 60 cents an hour. All this money could be saved if the people would use ordinary care in mailing their letters.

Last week an Appleton man was considerably worried over a letter which he had sent enclosing a check. The letter could not be delivered because of removal of the person the letter was directed to. The letter had to be held at the particular postoffice for a stated number of days. After the necessary time had elapsed, the letter was sent to the dead letter office at Washington where it was opened and then returned to the Appleton postoffice. The letter was then delivered to sender. A receipt was required of him and forwarded to Washington. The same procedure is necessary in all similar cases. Weeks elapse before the letter is returned to the sender—if it is returned at all, depending on whether the letter bears a signature.

SISTER DROWNS IN GREAT TEXAS FLOOD

Mrs. P. T. Morey of Belton, Texas, sister of George Schiedermayer, met her death by drowning in the Salado river while returning home from San Antonio with her husband in their automobile, according to a newspaper clipping which Mr. Schiedermayer has just received from members of her family. Her death was announced a few days ago in a brief telegram received here.

Mr. and Mrs. Morey had been at San Antonio for a week attending the battle of flowers and were not aware of the condition of the river. While crossing a spillway in the early part of the evening the engine stopped and in getting out to learn the cause of the trouble Mr. Morey stepped too close to the edge and was carried down the river but finally reached shore.

When Mr. Morey returned to the spillway a flash of lightning revealed Mrs. Morey clinging to a curb of the structure. She was calling for help, but before assistance arrived she was carried down the swift current. Her body was recovered the next morning six miles below the spillway.

POLICE-FIRE BOARD INITIATES VAUGHN

Reports of Chief Prim of the police department and Chief McGowan of the fire department, were read. The commission also heard the first report of Mrs. Mildred H. Gardner, policewoman.

ROSEBUSH TELLS WHY HE SUPPORTS NORTH PARK PLAN

Beautiful Badger Park is Permanent Reminder of Primeval Forests

Appleton and vicinity will be given an opportunity of contributing its share of saving a bit of old Wisconsin with the launching of the campaign Friday to raise $15,000 in the movement to purchase 7,800 acres of timber land in Price and Sawyer counties for use as a state park.

The project which the legislature was unable to put through has been taken over by the Wisconsin Lakes and Parks association and is to rescue 40,000,000 feet of virgin forest from the woodman's axe.

Judson Rosebush, who is one of the men connected with the campaign in Appleton, tells why he is supporting the movement:

"Northern Wisconsin is becoming more and more the great playground of the middle west. It is being ordered by a steadily increasing stream of tourists from all parts of the country. We are gradually learning what a great asset we have in northern Wisconsin as a playground. The great concrete highways, now completed, extending from St. Louis to Green Bay, will increase the traffic greatly. The park program is a phase of realizing what nature has done for us.

"We must also recognize that the hardwood timber forests are rapidly being cut off. In a few years all of what was once known by our forefathers will cease to exist. To have various parks of various types will be permanent reminders of the timber character of our country.

"As to the work of raising funds with which to secure the park,—inasmuch as the state fell down on the matter, it becomes necessary for private individuals to take hold of it."

Druggists are astonished by the unprecedented demand for a medicine while hundreds of happy users express the deepest gratitude for the relief they have gained. Winning the praise of so many well-known and highly respected LOCAL people, ever since its introduction here only a few weeks ago, Trutona has simply smashed all records.

Countless Appleton people now realize that Trutona is entirely different from the average proprietary preparation, a medicine quicker to give relief and more thorough in its work than any other preparation ever introduced in this city. Trutona goes straight to the seat of stomach, liver, kidney, bowel and blood troubles and REMOVES the CAUSE, at the same time, cleansing and strengthening the entire system. That's why scores of local people have declared that they "never before used a medicine that made them feel so much better in every respect as Trutona has."

If YOU suffer from nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of appetite, headache, back, side or chest pains, gastritis, anaemia, blood disorders or the like—all tributary ills of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, Trutona will do the same for YOU that it is for hundreds of Appleton people every day now. DON'T put it off—go today—buy a bottle of this celebrated reconstructive tonic at Schlitz Bros. Co.

LIFELONG APPLETON WOMAN'S TESTIMONY

"I actually feel better, since taking this new medicine Trutona, than I have for years," declares Mrs. Emil Hannon, lifelong Appleton resident, living at 724 Atlantic street. "For two or three years I'd been trying all kinds of medicines without getting back my strength. I always felt so tired and worn out and nothing I ate tasted good to me. Constipation always bothered me, but now, for the first time in years, my bowels are acting regularly and I feel almost like a different woman. My appetite has increased to much, that tired, worn-out feeling has left me and instead of being a torture as it was before, my housework is actually more of a pleasure for me now, since I've used Trutona."

FOX RIVER PAPER CO. EMPLOYEE GRATEFUL

"Almost ever since I can remember, I had suffered from stomach and liver troubles, but I can truthfully say that this wonderful medicine Trutona has already given me more relief than all the others I have ever tried," was the grateful assertion of Mr. I. Manthe, Fox River Paper Co. employee and well-known Appleton man of 624 Lincoln street, recently. "In the mornings, before taking Trutona, I'd usually have such a sour, rotten taste in my mouth that even the thought of eating made me sick and my sluggish liver caused me considerable suffering. But it's a fact that my former morning sickness and sour taste in my mouth has all disappeared, since I began using Trutona. I'm sure Trutona's just the medicine I've been seeking for years and I'm certainly glad to recommend it."

KIDNEY PAINS AND DIZZINESS RELIEVED

"It's almost unbelievable that any medicine could help me as Trutona really has," says Mrs. M. H. Buss, 925 Durkee street, Appleton. "I scarcely notice my former severe kidney pains in my back at all now and I don't have the annoying spells of dizziness like I did before taking Trutona. My bowels act regularly every day and I really do feel just 100 per cent improved now. I'm glad to tell the public of Appleton about my experience with this wonderful new medicine."

CLARK STREET CASE

"No one knows the pains I had endured from suffering constantly with rheumatism—that is, until I began using Trutona recently," is the significant expression of Mrs. Mary Neigenfind, 841 Clark street, Appleton. "Trutona relieved the former dreadful pains in my arms and limbs, improved my appetite too and enabled me to sleep better at night. It is certainly deserving of much praise from me."

"IT'S REMARKABLE," SAYS MAIN ST. LADY

It's simply remarkable how quickly this medicine Trutona began to build me up in strength," says Mrs. H. Wolfgram, 513 Main street, Appleton. "Influenza had left me in a terribly weakened condition. I had little appetite, suffered from dizziness, general weakness and was so nervous and restless I couldn't sleep well at night. Judging from the benefits I've already gained, it seems as though Trutona had been particularly designed for my case. My appetite is returning. I don't suffer the dizzy spells as before and I just sleep a hundred per cent better at night, getting up in the mornings feeling so much more fresh and rested. I'm convinced now that Trutona is the just the medicine everyone, who has suffered, influenza, needs to build up their system and put it in shape again."

What Constitutes A Bargain?

THE quality built into an article establishes its true worth—not the price put upon it. The consumer gets out just what the manufacturer builds in. The cost depends largely on economy in manufacturing and distribution, and on fairness in pricing.

The retailer who buys the best, sells on a close margin of profit, and advertises honestly — practices truth in every part of his business — is working for your best interests in these days of necessary economy.

Such distributors cannot and do not advertise big reductions and great price-cutting sales. They cannot afford to take off what they have not put on. Their merchandise is priced fairly at the first — not marked up to stand a heavy reduction.

The Advertising Club of Appleton stands for economical business principles and for fair treatment of the buying public.

By constant vigilance and co-operation our organization is proving to manufacturers, distributors and consumers the advantages of truth and honesty in all transactions. The increase in the membership of this organization is the acid test of the public indorsement of our policies, and is noted with great pleasure.

You help us help you when you buy carefully and intelligently, choosing your articles for their actual worth—guided by experience and good judgment—not by seemingly big reductions in prices that were never in fair keeping with the quality of the article and set high to stand a heavy cut.

The Advertising Club of Appleton is protector of the merchant and consumer alike. We guard the confidence of the buying public by assuring ourselves that the things they buy are as they should be. We protect the honest merchant from the loss of faith which his dishonest competitor is bound to suffer.

"I must go on. I gave my promise."

She nodded.

"It means Tollifer now. The descent is more dangerous."

Suddenly the storm lifted for a moment. Far below, miles in reality, straight jets of steam rose high above black, curling smoke. Faintly, distantly, whistles sounded. The snowplows!

He gripped her arm with the sight of it, nor did she resist. Thrilled, enthralled, they watched it; the whirling smoke, the shooting steam, the white spray which indicated the grinding, churning progress of the plows, propelled by the heavy engines behind. From the swollen lips of Houston: "They've started the fight! I'm going to work with them."

"But—"

He knew what she meant and shook his head.

"No—she does not need me. My presence would mean nothing to her. I can't tell you why. My place—" is down there.

For an instant Madeline Robinette looked at him with frankly questioning eyes, eyes which told that a question was arising as to his guilt in at least one of the things which circumstances had arrayed against him. But suddenly she was speaking, as though to divert her thoughts.

"We'll have about three hours. It's our chance. We'd better cut this cord—the one in the lead may fall and pull the other over. We'd better make haste."

Houston stepped before her. A moment later they were edging their way down the declivity of what once had been a railroad track.

Black dots they became—dots which appeared late in the afternoon to the laboring crews of the snow-fighters far below; dots edging their way about beetling precipices, hanging forward, then stopping, pulling themselves out of the heavier drifts where drops of ice and even 20 feet had thrown them. Once, at the edge of an overhanging ledge, he scrambled furiously, failed and fell—to drop in a drift far below, to crawl painfully back to the waiting dot above. Hours! The dots grew larger. On they came, stumbling, reeling. The woman wavered and fell; he caught her. Then doubleweighted, a pack on his back, a form in his arms he came on, his blooded eyes searching almost sightlessly the faces of the waiting stolid grease-smearing men, his thick voice drooping over bloody lips:

"Somebody take her—get her into the bunk cars. She's given out. I'm all right. Take care of her. I've got to go on—to Tollifer."

CHAPTER XIX
It was night when Barry Houston limped, muscles cramped and frost-numbed, to the little undertaking shop at Tollifer and deposited his tiny burden. Madeline Robinette had remained behind in the care of the snow crews.

"Nameless," he said with an effort, when the lengthy details of certification were asked. "The mother—" and a necessary lie came to his lips—"he came unconscious before she could tell me anything except that the baby had been baptized. She wanted a priest."

From far away came the whistles of locomotives, answering the signals of the snow-plows ahead. He remembered the bulky cars of machinery at Tollifer. It was partially his battle they were fighting out there. He fumbled aimlessly in his pockets for his gloves. Something tinkled on the floor and he bent to pick up the little crucifix with its twisted, tangled chain, forgotten at Tollifer. Dully, hazily, he stared at it with his red eyes, with the faint feeling of a duty neglected. Then:

"She only said they might want it," he mumbled. "I'm sorry—I should have remembered. I'm always failing—at something."

Then, anxious to take his place in the fighting line, he replaced the tiny bit of gold in his pocket and threaded his way through the circuitous tunnel of snow.

Even from the distance, Barry could hear the surge of the terrific impact, as the rotary smashed against the tight-jammed contents of the shed, snarled and tore at its enemy, then, beaten at last by the crushed ice of the rails, came grudgingly back, so that the crews might break the ice from the rails and give traction for another assault. Houston started forward, only to stop. A figure in the dim light of the cook car had caught his eye. Madeline Robinette.

If the woman back there in the west country only would tell! If she would only keep the promise which she had given him in her half-delirium!

Ten minutes later Barry stood beside a great Mallet engine, a sleek, grayhound of the mountains, taking instructions from the superintendent.

"Know anything about firing an engine?"

"I know enough to shovel coal—and I've got a strong pair of shoulders."

"When you get in them gas pockets, stick your nose in the hollow of your elbow. There ain't no fresh air in that there shed; the minute these engines get inside and start throwin' on the juice, it fills up with smoke. That's what gets you."

Barry climbed to his place on the engine. A whistle sounded, to be echoed and reechoed by the answering blasts of the snowplow train—four engines and the big auger itself—ready now for a fresh sally into the shed. Throttles open, fire boxes throwing their red, spluttering glare against the black sky as firemen leaped to their task, the great mass of machinery moved forward.

Faster—faster—then the impact. Like crashing into a stone wall. They were within the snowshed now, the auger boring and tearing and snarling like some savage, vengeful thing against the solid mass which faced it. Inch by inch for eight feet it progressed; then progress ceased, while the plow ahead shrieked the triple signal to back up. The engineer opened the cab window and gratefully sucked in the fresh, clean air.

"Eight feet—that's all," he mused. "Eight feet at a time."

Back and forth—back and forth—fresh air and foul air—gleaming lights, then dense blackness—so the hours passed. Sully after sully the snowplow made. Men fell groveling, only to be dragged into the open air and resuscitated, then sent down once more into the emptiness of the fight. The hours dragged by like stricken things. Then—with dawn—the plow churned with lesser impact, the snow piled forward. Gray light broke through at the end of the tunnel. The grin of at least one snowshed was broken; but there remained twenty more—and the Death Trail beyond!

The day crew carried the fight on upward, through three of the smaller

CHAPTER XX
The second and third nights were a repetition of the first.

Tonight was the last night, the last either in the struggle or in the lives of those who had fought their way upward to the final barricade which yet separated them from the top of the world—the Death Trail.

Smooth and sleek it showed before Houston in the early moonlight, an icy Niagara, the snow piled high above the railroad tracks. Already the plows were assembled. This was to be the fight of lights, there in the moonlight. A quick shoot and lucky one. Otherwise—the men who went forward to their engines would not speak of it. But there was one who did.

She was standing beside the cook car as Houston passed.

"You'll be with them?"

"On the Death Trail? I expect to."

"They talk of it as something terrible. Why?"

Houston pointed to the forbidding wall of snow. His thick, broken lips mumbled in the longest speech he had known in days.

"It's all granite up there. The cut of the roadbed forms a base for the remainder of the snow. When we cut out the foundation—they're afraid that the vibration will loosen the rest and start an avalanche. It all depends whether it comes before—or after you've passed through."

She straightened and looked at him with clear, frank eyes. "Mr. Houston," came quietly. "I've been thinking about something all day. I have felt that I haven't been quite fair—that a man who acted as you have acted since—since I met you this last time—that he deserves more of a chance than I have given him."

"I'm asking nothing of you, Miss Robinette."

"I know. I want to tell you that I have been hoping that you can some day furnish me the proof—that you spoke on once. I—that's what I wanted to tell you," she ended quickly and extended her hand. "Goodby. I'll be praying for all of you up there."

Houston answered only with a pressure of his hand. He looked at her with eyes that spoke what his tongue could not say, then he went on—a shambling, dead-tired man even on awaking from sleep, but a man whose heart was beating with a new fervor. She would be praying for all of them up there at the Trail. And all of them included him.

At the cab of the engine, he listened to the final instructions of the cursing, anxious superintendent, then went to his black work of the shovel. Higher and higher mounted the steam on the gauge; theirs was the first plow, theirs the greatest task. One by one the final orders came—crisp, shouted, cursing commands, answered in kind. Then the last query:

"If there's a damn man of you who's a coward, step out! Hear that? If you're afraid—come on—there's no stopping once you start!"

Engine after engine answered, in jeering, sarcastic tones, the belligerent cries of men hiding what pounded in their hearts, driving down by sheer will-power the primitive desires of self-preservation. Again the call was repeated. Again it was answered by men who snarled, men who cursed that they might not pray.

And with it:

"A-w-a-w—right! Let 'er go!"

AUTO OWNERS CAN LOWER RISK RATES

(Special to Post-Crescent)
New York. — When the motoring public shows a concerted movement toward greater care in driving, then will automobile insurance premiums come down.

That is the message, smacking of advice, from A. R. Roome, New York insurance expert who has been investigating methods tending to reduce auto insurance rates.

"Until that 'minimum of carelessness' in driving is attained, Roome says, lower rates will have to be achieved by other means. Such are:

1. Making the motorist stand a fixed portion of the loss.

2. Requiring a bill of sale with each purchase.

3. Federal registration for the life of the car.

4. Vigorous and prompt enforcement of traffic and theft laws.

5. Installation of approved theft devices.

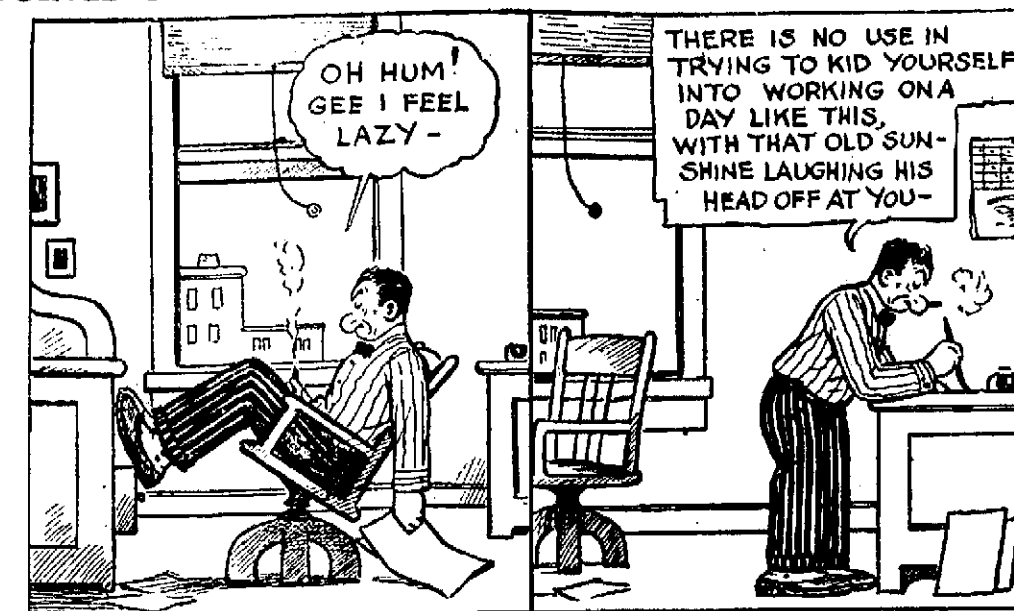

OWNER PART INSURER

"The most promising means we have found to lower insurance rates is making the assured a co-insurer of his car," says Roome. "That is, making him stand a fixed portion of the loss. This increases the care taken by the owner."

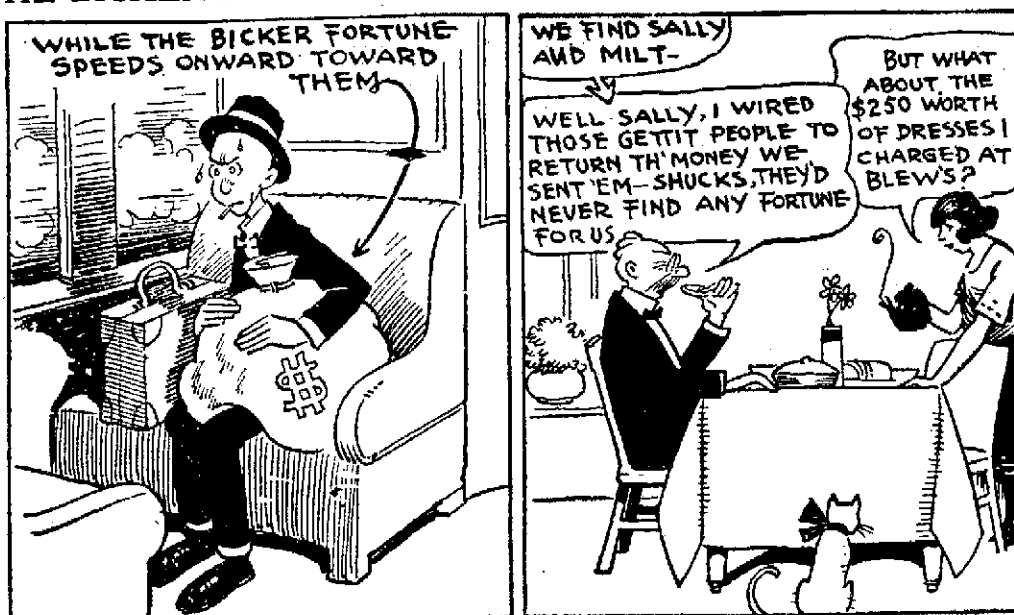

"On the co-insurance basis the reduction in premiums is about 75 per cent, where theft, fire and collision insurance also are taken out. On theft insurance alone the reduction is 20 per cent."

"But as this form of policy is only optional with the companies, insurance brokers in their desire for business have not been pressing it. It should be made mandatory on all companies."

WILLARD AND DEMPSEY MAY MEET IN FALL

Negotiations Underway for Champion and Former Champ to Battle

New York—Jess Willard, former heavyweight champion, may face his conqueror, Jack Dempsey, in the ring again next fall. Negotiations for such a bout to be held in Richard Arena Jersey City on or about Labor Day, are progressing favorably and a definite signing of articles is likely when Dempsey returns to this country, about the end of the month, it was learned today.

Willard has been anxious for a return bout with Dempsey for some months and the contest appeared at most clinched several times, but some untoward circumstance prevented the completion of the plans.

Tex Rickard, who promoted the contest in Toledo in 1919, when Willard was so unmercifully pounded by Dempsey that he could not respond to the bell for the fourth round has been in receipt of several telegrams from Willard recently requesting a chance to regain the title. In these messages, Willard who has been training in Los Angeles, declares that he is in fine physical condition as the result of preliminary work and is ready to start earnest training for the bout if assured that Dempsey will give him another chance.

Rickard has refused to commit himself on the proposition, up to this time, but is understood to look with favor on a return match if Willard can convince him that he is in physical shape to give the champion a real battle.

No difficulty is expected in signing Dempsey to a second bout with Willard provided the champion receives what he considers to be a proper financial inducement.

ONE MAN OFTEN MAKES BALL CLUB

McInnis Gives Cleveland Needed Offensive as Well as Defensive Punch

By Billy Evans
One man has quite often made a ball club. The latest illustration of this is to be had in Cleveland where John (Stuffy) McInnis, the pride of Gloucester, has suddenly made the Indians the big threat in the American league race.

Rabbit McInnis, with a pair of big hands, came near pulling Pittsburgh to a pennant last year. It was the addition of McInnis that "made" the Pittsburgh team.

The New York Giants rode to a world's championship on the slender shoulders of Dave Bancroft and Babe Ruth's bulky shoulders carried the New York Yankees to an American League championship.

Cleveland was runnerup last season. Cleveland was figuratively and literally "one man show of a championship." The Cleveland team, world's champions in 1920, were declining and all agreed that Speaker must get new blood to build up his faltering hosts.

But Speaker did better than that—he got McInnis.

The Cleveland defense, strong as a whole, was weak in spots and the weakest spot was first base. Then, last winter, Cleveland landed McInnis and bolstered the team in its weakest point.

It is not alone the sparkling play of McInnis, for to date he has played the best baseball of his career, but the psychological effect of having the great fielding Stuffy on first base that has had such remarkable effect upon the Cleveland team and that makes a great many people believe that an other American League championship is on its way to Cleveland. McInnis is not alone a great individual player, but he is a remarkable man when it comes to holding up an infield and the pitchers.

Cleveland's weakness, according to the experts, is questionable. If Cleveland can get good pitching the Indians look to be one of the best ball teams in recent history.

But, speaking of pitching, the success of a pitcher depends mostly upon his defense and when it comes to defense Cleveland right now has the best defense in the American league, the matter of pitching should be taken good care of, chiefly because of the coming of McInnis.

If Cleveland rides to another pennant the predominating figure in the Indians' comeback will be the former pitcher boy of Gloucester.

HORSESHOE FANS WAIT FOR COURTS

Horseshoe pitchers of Appleton are waiting patiently for announcement of location of courts to be established by the sports department of Appleton Post-Crescent. The places will be made known in a few days.

It is proposed to invite every person in Appleton to take part in the tournaments and make use of the courts which will be located as conveniently as possible. It is planned to hold ward tournaments, winding up with a city tournament near the end of the season. Prizes will be awarded to winners of these meets.

If you have any suggestion for locating a horseshoe pitching court now is the time to advise the sports editor of the Post-Crescent.

Miller's Error in Eighth Inning Gives Philadelphia Victory

KNOCKOUT PUNCH WINS FOR ZWICK

Kaukauna Boy Put Dryvitski to Mat for Count in Second Round

Green Bay—Chick Remick of Menasha and Jack Zalick of Milwaukee fought 10 rounds to a draw here Wednesday night in the main event of a four card boxing show. The bout was slow and uninteresting as the boys were continually clinching and holding.

In the semi-windup, Jack Zwick of Kaukauna knocked out Frank Dryvitski of Green Bay in the second round of a scheduled 6 round battle. A hard right to the jaw put Dryvitski to the canvas for the count.

Rud Vernon of Duluth knocked out Faddy McDonough of DePere in the second round of a scheduled six round bout. Wally Hoffman of Green Bay and Young Church battled four rounds to a draw.

Otto Tonne was the referee. A small crowd witnessed the bouts.

IF THIS PLAY COMES UP

Here's Your Decision

If a fair hit ball strikes the person or clothing of the umpire on fair territory, the batsman is entitled to first base, provided no play has been made on the ball. No base runners can advance on such a play unless forced to make room for the batsman. If a play has been made on the ball and it then hits the umpire, it is considered in play and runners advance at their peril.

London—Georges Carpentier, light heavyweight champion who is training here for his bout with Ted Lewis, May 11, has made no plans for a bout in America. His manager, Francois Deschamps informed the Associated Press today.

The statement was promoted by reports from the United States that Carpentier was planning to defend his honors against the winner of the coming bout for the American championship between Gene Tunney and Harry Greb.

SHONE ONLY AS FREAK PITCHER

Abolition of Trick Ball Marked Passing of Hod Eller as Major

The abolition of all freak deliveries was largely instrumental in the passing of "Hod" Eller from the majors. Eller, who was sent to the Oakland club of the Pacific Coast League by Cincinnati, was the sensation of the National League in 1919.

In the world series with the Chicago White Sox he won national fame by striking out six of the White Sox in succession, a feat never before approached in a world series.

Eller was a trick pitcher. That is, he got a hop or break on his fast ball by means of doctoring the sphere. National Leaguers always insisted he used powdered emery on the ball.

This was always denied by Eller, but the fact remains that after the freak deliveries were abolished he lost his effectiveness.

Danville, Ill.—"Iron Man" of old, Joe McGinnity today has another rivet driven to clinch title. After 34 years in the pastime, he "came back" yesterday and pitched his Danville, Illinois Three I League team to a 5 to 3 victory over Peoria.

He hurled seven scoreless innings, weakened a bit on the eighth when Peoria got to him for three runs, two of them earned, but was strong enough in the ninth to stave off further scoring. He turned back three batters on strikes and walked one man. He also got one hit out of four trips to the plate.

McGinnity earned the "Iron Man" appellation years ago by his repeated efforts at pitching both ends of double headers.

Mr. Starkey now is arranging for the annual local swimming contest, which will be held late in May in the "Y" pool. This will be one week previous to the state event, and will serve as an elimination contest for entrants to the larger meet.

Appleton Y. M. C. A. is sure of having this city accepted for the state meet, but means of financing the venture and purchasing prizes will be the determining factor. It will bring some of the best swimmers and divers in Wisconsin here and will be one of the important spring athletic events.
